"Anything I have to say to Spreckles

it requires no proof from me to estab-

sugar refiner, is sure at the food ad-destroyed. I realize Spreckles' balas last, for the refiners' profits have been regulated. Spreckles therefore has reason to feel badly."Bakersville

Woman Dies
At Ripe AgeThe death of Mrs. Sarah Peairs, aged 91 years, occurred Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock at her home in Bakersville. She had been failing in health for the last year, her death being due to senility.Sarah Hart was born in Virginia
When she was about 17 years old she moved with her family to Tuscarawas county, Ohio. Shortly after coming to this state, she was united in marriage to J. W. Peairs, who preceded her to the grave by 24 years. To this union three children were born all of whom survive. They are: A. A. Peairs of Ravenna, Mrs. W. A. Mizer of Park Avenue, Coshocton, and Miss Allie Peairs, of the home. Miss Peairs has been her mother's faithful attendant during her sickness of the last year.Mrs. Peairs was the last of a family of 11 children. In addition to the three children, she is survived by 15 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. Miss Audrey, Blake and French Mizer, of this city, are grandchildren.Mrs. Peairs was a faithful member of the Bakersville M. E. church for many years, and her husband having been instrumental in the founding of it. She was well known and loved in the community in which she lived,
and her death will be greatly mourned.
Many Coshocton people were fortune-ate in being ranked among her friends, as she spent her winters with her daughter, Mrs. Mizer, until two years ago.The funeral will be held Tuesday.
The hour and place of holding the services will be announced later.Milk To Go To 12 Cents
In CoshoctonOn Monday, December 24, the price of milk will be raised by local dairymen from 10 to 12 cents per quart.
The high cost of feed is given as the cause of the increase.The decision to raise the price of milk was reached Saturday. One dealer stated that it was a question of boosting the price or go out of business, and another stated that during the last week his dairy was operated at a loss of $50.In other Ohio cities milk is retailing at from 9 to 11 cents per quart.REVOLT OF that an effort may be made to institute a monarchy in Russia received impetus today from Lord Robert Cecil, under foreign secretary. Lord Robert said he knew nothing of the reports except what he had read in the press but suggested that perhaps Germany had told the Bolsheviks

she would not treat for peace
with any Russian government but a monarchy. He added, how-sacks under Gen. Korniloff and Gen.

Kaledine was collapsing.Kaledine head of the Cossacks was reported to have been arrested while Gen. Korniloff was said to have disappeared.Announcement to this effect was made by the Bolshevik government in Petrograd. The revolution began just a week ago today in the region of the Don river in the interior of Russia. It was first reported that the Cossacks had enormous forces of men, but this report seems to have been exaggerated.Fighting broke out in Moscow and along the Don river, spreading to Bie-gorod. Both sides claimed victory and there was much confusion among the reports received here.The Bolshevik government formally declared war against the Cossacks thus establishing a condition of civil war in the republic. The Black Sea fleet went over to the Bolshevik forces and took part in fighting at the mouth of the Don. In the meantime the domestic warfare and the apparent strength of the Cossacks led to hopes in London and Paris that the Cossacks
would again control the government and put an end to peace plotting of Lomine and Trotsky, both of whom have been treating openly with Germany.Ag. Board To

Babst With Using
Office As a ToolWASHINGTON, DEC. 15.— Claus A. Spreckles before the senate subcommittee investigating the sugar and fuel shortage, charged this afternoon that Earl D. Babst, president American Sugar Refining Co., the so-called "sugar trust," and a member of the food administration, had attempted to use the latter's office as a lever to have the government's anti-trust suit against his company dropped.Claus Spreckles, president Federal Sugar Refining Co., made this complaint this afternoon. He told the senate committee investigating fuel and food shortages that the prices were fixed entirely by the sugar refiners themselves. They met for that purpose, Spreckles told the committee with the consent of the federal food administration, of which Herbert Hoover is chief. According to the story Spreckles told the committee in this method of price fixing the sugar men "have contrived so to arrange matters that they have about prevented the possibility of any substantial reduction of existing quotations for years to come."Senator Reed, chairman of the committee, displayed intense interest in the statement of the sugar man."Was there no one at these price-fixing meetings to represent the people?" he demanded."There was not," replied Spreckles.
Today's session was chiefly devoted to develop from the charge made by Spreckles that there has been a direct connection between the food administration and the sugar trust. In this connection Spreckles named a list of former employees of the American Sugar Co., who now hold down decks with the sugar division of the food administration.Just before adjournment was taken, Judge Lindsay, for Mr. Hoover, asked that the committee reconsider its decision and permit him to cross-examine witnesses. The food administration, he said, "seemed to be on the carpet."Senator Reed answered that there was no desire to turn the investigation into a court and that there is no disposition to make an attack on the food commission."If there were," he continued, "the food commission would be able to take care of itself. It has in the past with a pretty well organized press bureau,
and so on."The food administration, however,
will produce several witnesses next week.No Mail At

IF KIDNEYS FEEL LIKE LEAD OR YOUR BACK HURTS TAKE SALTS

We eat too much meat, which clogs kidneys, and they need a flushing occasionally. No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a reliable authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders, come from sluggish kidneys. The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or at all, it is a warning. Get rid of it by taking a course of Jad Salts. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

schedule of war tax charges will obtain in both major leagues.

These were the things settled at the meeting here. As for the question of financial retrenchment, that matter is to be left to the magnates themselves. If they want to pay huge salaries and feel that they can afford it, that is their own affair. If they want to finance a spring training trip six weeks longer only two, that is their prerogative. One thing the meeting did not do was to settle the claims of the Philadelphia and Baltimore Federal league clubs. This problem was left over to the January meeting of the two leagues. The magnates declared, however, that the claims will be settled out of court.

The National league plan of allowing the four first division clubs to share in the proceeds of the world's series was opposed by many but finally they agreed and placed the matter entirely in the hands of Ban Johnson. Johnson is known to favor the plan.

Baseball magnates and managers in attendance at the joint meeting were of the opinion of the Red Sox Athletic deal announced yesterday will make the crimson based club a rival for the White Sox in the pennant race next year.

FOOL TOLERANCE

By Margaret Widdemer of The Vigilantes

Whatever faults, crudities or vulgarities other nations have accused us of in the past—and they have not spared us—there has never been a word that was not in praise of American hospitality.

We have welcomed, wonderfully, and, largely, all the visitors who dropped in to write us up, or make a lecture tour; we have gone further—when the other nations told us we were crude, or vulgar, or pushing or grasping, we have meekly agreed. This characteristic has extended itself not only to the well-bred lecturer, visitor, but to the immigrants. We have said, in effect, for generations: "Welcome! We are sure you are going to be good Americans. We won't be able to tell you that there are some of your old-world characteristics we don't like. If you wish to speak your mind, why, speak it; and you had a hard time over in the Old Country you praise so dearly."

We have trusted, as a whole, to their good sense and honor and courtesy. It is part sentimentalism, part the intense American sensitiveness, a large part easy-goingness and dislike of getting into a row. But we have been rather polite hosts too long. There is such a thing as fool tolerance.

The other night I was at a meeting of a literary society, where was read a poem—not, perhaps, a perfect poem—but one full of good American nationalism and honest enthusiasm. A German, a man known to all there as one of the most clever and notorious of the propagandists, rose and sneered at the poem. He said everything that a clever mind which wished to discredit Americanism could suggest to belittle the poem. He neatly picked out its vulnerable points. Then he smilingly sat down. There was an awkward hush at his breach of good taste. And before anyone could tell him what they thought of him another man arose

A CHRISTMAS CLUB CHECK is Happiness To ALL

The Fifth Year of Our Christmas Savings Is Now Open

We wish to urge all who intend to take out cards this year to do so at once—do it when you get your check cashed, and do not wait until the last day.

By so doing, it enables prompt service and avoids the rush at the last. Our clerks are very accommodating but if you wait until the last, you cannot expect the prompt service we would like to render.

We consider our Christmas Savings Plan a decided success, consequently we are continuing the same kind of cards as heretofore.

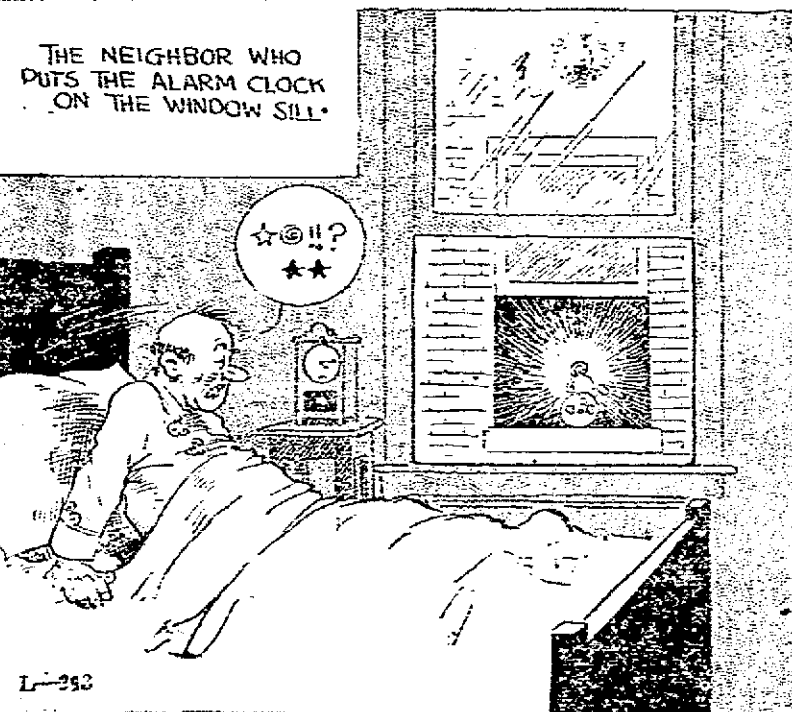

Do "your bit" and organize a club among your neighbors. It is not necessary for all to come in, one person can get cards for several.

The need and importance of saving these war times is more important than ever before, save your money and buy a Liberty Bond.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

THE ITALIAN-RUSSIAN DISASTERS

Editor Tribune and Times-Age

If one were disposed to accept the conclusions of the Press in regard to the results of recent events in Italy and Russia as final, the outlook would be very discouraging for the future. There is a saying that one person's opinion is as good as another's if not better, so we may accept the numerous press wails for what they are worth and no more. Press opinions since the beginning of the war have been so varied and contradictory and in contrast to the matter published as war news that they must be heavily discounted as a rule.

The ordinary reader who has kept up with events by careful study of the progress of the war from day to day, is as competent to judge the situation as the so-called experts who are expected to form their conclusions for public consumption with a definite object in view to serve a more or less disinterested purpose. There is nothing in the situations in either Italy or Russia to justify that very dark blue that the jingo press has painted on the future skies. Taking the facts gathered from press reports, any one cognizant of the facts cannot but conclude that the Central Powers are well whipped and want to quit and would be glad so far as the leaders and the masses are both concerned, but the leaders know that just as soon as they are compelled to face the masses and give an account of their betrayal of their trust, their doom is sealed. Everyday that they can keep the war going, is one more day of respite for them. And we all very well know that their days are growing fewer and fewer and that the day of final reckoning is not far ahead.

And the masses, were they united could they but have an opportunity to confide their views and desires to one another, if they were given an opportunity to come to an understanding of what they all feel and know to be the facts of the situation, would end it all in short order.

What occurred in Italy was no more to the Entente Allies as a whole than what occurred in the Civil War in this country in the last days of the war when Early raided in the vicinity of Washington D. C. Hood invaded Tennessee and Kirby Smith drove Banks from Sabine Pass. And just as Sheridan smashed Early and Thomas smashed Hood, so we are confident, Diaz and the Allies will smash the German Austrian invasion.

What is this Italian drive anyhow but a matter of revenge because Italy refused to perform the part the Kaiser had assigned her in the consummation of his schemes; a last desperate convulsive agonized effort to postpone the inevitable crash and ruin of the scheme he had formulated and devoted a life time to realization of world dominion. The Kaiser knows the subjugation of Italy cannot save him nor increase his strength. He has lost out and he knows it.

Admit that the downfall of Kerensky puts Russia out of the fight for the present, does that prove that she will stay out or that Germany will profit by the situation or that Kerensky will not come back, or anything else.

What appears on the surface about as plainly as anything else is that Russian Democracy has been assiduously damned with faint praise by a large element in our own country and in other allied countries who have very little love for democracy of the genuine kind. In other words Russian democracy is a little too raw for consumption by the profiteering democracy of the other entente nations, and this brand of democracy would about as soon see Russia go to the Devil than set up a democracy that would not be half sham.

BACK FROM WASHINGTON

Mrs. Stevenson of Coshocton and Mrs. Foster Ensley of Warsaw, returned from the National W. C. T. U. Convention last Tuesday and report a most enjoyable time, 906 delegates were in attendance and helped to make this the largest and said to be the best convention ever.

The President, Miss Gordon's annual address was indeed a master piece. Her position as Editor-in-Chief of the Union Signal, the official organ of the National W. C. T. U. adds to her opportunity for ever-expanding knowledge of the work of this body of Christian women.

The people of Washington are enthusiastic over Prohibition and prominent officials assured us from the platform, of the great improvement in law and order, and the lessening of crime, since Nov. 1, when prohibition became effective. Each state making a gain in membership, was allowed a

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Hopes every man and woman adopts this splendid morning habit.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried, some days head-achy, dull and listless; some days really incapacitated by illness.

Just as necessary as it is to drinking of phosphated hot water before breakfast, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, sallow complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine-like poisons in the bowels which are absorbed into the blood.

If we all would practice the clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clear the inside organs of the previous day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous, days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

part in the program on "recognition night," and Ohio with a gain of 117, and seats reserved for 95 delegates, made a good showing on the platform. Each State President led his delegation, and was introduced by Vice Pres. Mrs. Ella Boole of New York, to Miss Gordon "Commander-in-Chief of the White Ribbon Army," and each group had their "stunt" ready. Mrs. Ensley holds herself in readiness (after holidays) to tell each local Union of our country the "high points" of the proceedings of this great convention.

During the two Sabbaths spent in Washington, our friends attended S. S. and preaching service at the Metropolitan Methodist church and sat in the pew formerly occupied by Pres. McKinley. The platform was decorated with harvest products, corn, raised by the boys of Delaware, wheat and oats from Montana, and was said to be truly "dry," never having had a drop of rain on them. A visit to Central Union Mission, over which is a large electric banner, "Jesus the Light of the World," which is seen from a great distance, proved how these leaders, Mr. Jerry McCauley, are reaching the "down and out," and leading to salvation those who hold aloof from the churches. A number of public buildings, including the White House, Army and Navy Building, U. S. Treasury and Bureau of Engraving are closed to visitors and carefully guarded, white soldiers on every hand remind one of the awful war.

FOR U. S. TROOPS

(International News Service) NEW YORK, DEC. 15.—Complimentary courses in French for those in the service of the United States Army, Navy and Red Cross who are preparing to go to France in the near future were opened tonight by the School of Sociology of Fordham University. This movement has the hearty approbation of Cardinal Parley.

Brigadier-General Eli D. Hoyle and Rear Admiral Nathaniel Usher have given their support to the effort. They have expressed their deep gratification that such a movement has been made to give the men who are soon to be fighting or aiding the allied combatants an opportunity to obtain so great an asset.

To ALL

The Fifth Year of Our Christmas Savings Is Now Open

We wish to urge all who intend to take out cards this year to do so at once—do it when you get your check cashed, and do not wait until the last day.

By so doing, it enables prompt service and avoids the rush at the last. Our clerks are very accommodating but if you wait until the last, you cannot expect the prompt service we would like to render.

We consider our Christmas Savings Plan a decided success, consequently we are continuing the same kind of cards as heretofore.

Do "your bit" and organize a club among your neighbors. It is not necessary for all to come in, one person can get cards for several.

The need and importance of saving these war times is more important than ever before, save your money and buy a Liberty Bond.

SACRED CANTANTA AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH DEC. 23

On Sunday evening, December 23rd, the Presbyterian Senior Endeavor society, will present the sacred drama cantata, "The Birth of Christ," which in theme is a portrayal of historical facts surrounding the birth of our Saviour, taken largely from the Bible and given in the spirit of the time of His coming.

The drama is given in five scenes, the first being a garden scene of a home near Bethlehem, and showing the people wondering about His coming, while the King's Herald on his rounds announces the taxation decree. The second scene presents the Judean hills and pastures, with the shepherds gathering in their flocks. At night the star appears, and the vision of the angels is the climax. In the third scene, the wise men arrive, following the star, and the watchman warns them of Herod. In scene four Herod hears of the wise men, and calls them to him. He appears friendly, but afterward plans the destruction of the new born King. His conscience finally overcomes him, and only a sleeping draught can banish the specters that pursue him. Scene five, presents the rejoicing over the birth and the announcement that the long expected King has indeed come.

The cantata parts are adapted from "The Messiah," and other famous musical numbers. In the presentation of all the scenes special scenery will be used, and costumes will be true to the period represented.

The entire Sunday school room is to be used as a stage, with the assistance in the main auditorium. Special electrical effects will be used, and every effort is being made to make the presentation complete in every detail. No admission will be charged.

Rep. Oliver Probes Navy Efficiency

WASHINGTON, DEC. 15.—Prepared to spend the Christmas holidays investigating the war efficiency of the navy, Rep. Oliver, of Alabama, chairman of the House sub-committee, today was formulating the program which he and his fellow investigators will carry out.

Each member of the House naval affairs committee which voted unanimously for the inquiry and members of the sub-committee which will execute the task, declared their investigation is undertaken in the most friendly spirit, confident that the inquiry will vindicate the navy as a fighting force.

"Our aim is first of all to obtain from the Navy Department all information possible for guidance of the navy affairs committee in the work before us," said Chairman Oliver, "this information we can in turn pass on to other members of Congress for their guidance. Far from embarrassing the navy, we fully expect that our course undertaken at this time will, instead, have the effect of forestalling unfriendly criticism. There is no ulterior motive back of our desire to know just what the navy has been doing."

Chairman Oliver said today that he and his fellow members of the committee of inquiry would hold their first meeting next Monday.

They expect to complete their task by the time the House reconvenes after the Christmas holidays.

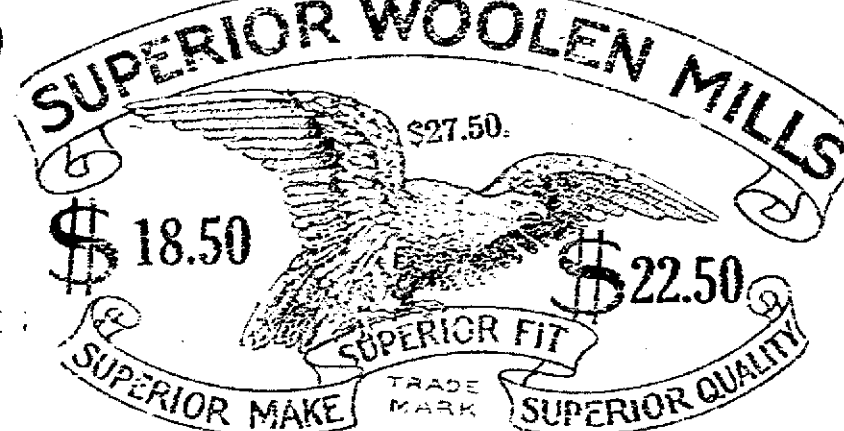

City subscribers should insist on a receipt from the carrier.

Letters from the BOYS

According to a letter from Cornelius Styer, a member of Co. E, 38th Engineers, 2nd of this regiment will leave Camp Sherman for France in the very near future.

The letter was written to his aunt, Mrs. William Cramblett, of route 3, The letter follows:

Dec. 5, 1917.

Dear Aunt Ella:
I have been trying to get time to write to you for a long time and that I would have to try and take time to day. How is every one around Coshocton? A large part of the camp is sick with an outbreak of sore throat. Between six and seven inches of snow is on the ground now and it was surely cold last night. But we were nice and warm in the barracks.

Yesterday we took a hike of about six miles and back thru that snow and storm.

We are all hoping they will move us to a warmer climate soon. About 250 from our regiment are going to France next week.

I am planning to come home next Saturday if we are not moved and I can get a pass.

They want volunteers to go to France and I might take a chance, as I am getting tired of this camp.

Last week we had pie. (You know I never ate pie or cake at home, but now I never refuse it and am not particular what kind it is.) One corporal took two pieces, and you ought to have heard what they said to him.

Hoping to hear from you soon. I remain,

Yours truly,
CORNELIUS STYER.

Both Hard to Manage.

"The man that hires a fool thinkin' he'd be easy to manage," said Uncle Eben, "deserves about as much sympathy as a man that deliberately picks out a balky mule."

Teddy Greets Sherman Men

CAMP SHERMAN, O., DEC. 15.—Col. Roosevelt, who came here today to visit the cantonment where 22,000 Ohio and Western Penna. men are training to help down the Huns, issued this yuletide message today to America's fighting men:

"A merry Christmas to all the men of the American army and navy at home and abroad, on sea and ashore, to officers and enlisted men, regulars national guards, national army, sailors, marines, all alike.

"They are the Americans of whom all other Americans have most cause to be proud."

Col. Roosevelt made himself solid with the officers and men five minutes after his arrival today by requesting that the division review arranged in his honor, be called off.

"It would be too tough on the boys," said Teddy as he shook hands with Major General Glenn and his staff. The parade ground was blanketed with snow.

Roosevelt's presence electrified the cantonment, sentinels made their salutes with beaming faces as he former President rode by in an automobile. Roosevelt was disappointed because a horse, instead of an auto was not provided for him.

Captain Alexander Locklin, of Glenn's staff, accompanied Roosevelt made every man in camp proud of his uniform when he stated that no man could do greater service than fighting for his flag. Following mess with the general staff the Colonel was to address the officers in the camp theater.

Appeal For Support Of Red Cross

By MISS HELEN BROWN

Men and women of the Red Cross and men and women who have never joined—do you realize that pneumonia is proving a more deadly foe to our fighting men than the enemy's gun? That adds emphasis to the urgent need of still bigger and better hospital equipment of every kind.

Uncle Sam is doing his best. What we cannot do the Red Cross must do.

The appeal is urgent in the extreme. In your comfortable homes with warmth enough and food enough and a doctor at the other end of the line, stop a moment to think of a soldier sick and far from home in desperate need of the comforts of home. Men and Women can you realize this tragically urgent need and turn a Red Cross solicitor down.

They ask so little. They are not making a plea for you to give up any of the comforts which are your's today. All they ask is your support of the Red Cross. The membership fee is one dollar, a sum which anyone with strength to work and will to do can give.

A solicitor will see you next week. Hand your dollar ready. Give in the name of humanity whose lives you long to save, whose suffering you yearn to relieve.

SACRIFICE

ANY man who is not willing to make sacrifices at a time like this—who isn't willing to back our Government and our soldiers to the full extent of his ability—who isn't glad to become a member of the Red Cross and send his dollar on its errand of mercy to the suffering, wounded men—such a man has no right to live on American soil. He ought to be living in those hell-blasted districts of Northern France where German Culture finds its full expression. He ought to be living in those districts where on the writhing, naked bodies of young and old alike German Kultur is inflicting the most foul and diabolical tortures ever known in the history of the universe.

THE OLD ORDER CHANGETH

In more than one Ohio town, presumably in towns all over the United States, the last livery stable is disappearing. In many of them it has already disappeared.

Forty, thirty, even twenty years ago a town's prosperity could well be judged by its livery barns. In the average county seat they vied with the court house as a popular meeting place. To have the reputation of owning the best livery stable in a county town was no mean distinction.

But the trolley car and more particularly the automobile, have done their work of destruction well. No more is the livery barn the accepted place of congregating for a third of the county's population. In most instances they have reached such a stage of decrepitude as to constitute a town's badge of shame, rather than a mark of distinction and gauge of prosperity.

A well known Coshoctonian the other day in commenting on the passing of the livery barn declared that only a few years ago there were seven well established, prosperous barns in this city. Along with the old-fashioned blacksmith shop they have vanished. In their places have come the garage and the motor-car repair shop. And yet less than thirty years ago no business enterprises were regarded as more stable than these two!

It is only another illustration of the Biblical maxim that the old order changeth. Nothing is permanent. And to those who spend so much of their time in resisting change we would suggest an occasional look at the broken window panes of the old livery barns and the smokeless forges of the blacksmith shops of our fathers' days.

GREATER LOVE THAN THIS

It is told in The Toledo Blade of the gunner's mate of the American destroyer Cassin, Osmond Kelly Ingram, who was standing aft when a torpedo came driving for the stern. He could have rushed for the fore part of the destroyer, escaped the explosion and had equal chance with his mates for the boats if the vessel were sunk.

Ingram did not run. In his keeping were certain bombs which would have been discharged by the explosion of the torpedo had he abandoned them. Instead of seeking shelter, he stopped to throw the bombs overboard. When the torpedo struck he was blown into the sea and drowned. He was the only one lost. His sense of duty had saved all his comrades.

Terrible as this war is, the great virtues of mankind keep breaking thru to justify the training of centuries, to prove the persisting qualities of the heart of humanity and to show us now, as it was shown in Judea so long ago, that "greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friend."

The Jollier

Blood must be hot to enjoy the merry game of the slinkies when the thermometer says 29 below.

Pancho Francisco Villa has lost all ambition to break into the first place. With the real game on he is a player.

Wars, like war-torn films and soldier letters should be passed by the censor before being thrust on the great commonwealth.

Tom Page must be flirting with the coal barons.

Ever hear of a fellow hoarding crops for higher prices so he could make a larger donation to the Red Cross?

Sweet the guy who says "Get it off with a flood."

Savings Campaign

Let your next winter's clothing be a young man with an ivory head. That's a fine identification.

Dear Santa: "Send me summer weather, international peace, live coal, British war savings, campaign was made in success by the war savings certificate, which idea has just been adopted by the United States, was told the Academy of Political Science at its meeting at Carnegie Hall last night by Basil P. Blackett, C.B., of the British Treasury. When the National War Savings campaign was appointed, it was an absolute shortage of goods which has served as a model for the war savings certificate. The success of the war savings campaign has been due to the atmosphere of the war, which it created. The campaign emphasized the importance of saving and left the question of investment in Government securities in the hands of the individual. It directed the one object of victory and made it a matter of course that saving meant and Dr. Jesse McClain are in attendance placing of goods and services in place.

Anglo-French Artillery On Piave Front

ROME, DEC. 15.—British and French troops, including their first line, the Italian artillery, are fighting the German positions along the Piave river and in the mountains of the Asiago plateau.

Austro-German forces are in the sector of the Gail valley made a violent effort to drive the Italians from Monte Solario but were thrust back over the most of the front. One trench position remained in the hands of the Germans, but the thickly massed soldiers took it with mosted down the hundreds by Italian machine guns.

The fighting took place in a snow storm and despite the winter blasts that sweep over the mountain summits swarms of Italian soldiers were active, dropping bombs upon enemy camps.

Catarrh of Throat

Miss Anna-Rose Ruzicka, 1449 South 16th St., Omaha, Nebraska, writes: "I have suffered with catarrh of the throat. I caught cold and it settled in my throat, and I coughed badly and was very weak. I could not sleep and had no appetite. I had two doctors and had taken so many different medicines and found no help. I thought I will have to give up, but at last my mother read about Peruna, so I thought of trying that great medicine Peruna. I got a bottle of it and in about four days I almost stopped coughing, and after a while I surely found relief, and from that time we are not without Peruna in our home."

GARY'S EYE ONLY MADE IN GERMANY

LOUISVILLE, KY., DEC. 15.—Paul Gary of Anderson, Indiana, is all American, with the exception of a glass eye. The substitute optic is alien.

Gary tried to enlist in the U. S. Marine Corps at their recruiting station here, but was rejected when his infirmity was discovered by Sergeant G. C. Wright.

"Didn't you know that the loss of an eye would prevent your enlisting?" asked the sergeant.

"I thought it might," explained Gary, "but this glass blinker is the only part of me that was made in Germany, and I want to take it back."

He was advised to mail it.

MOVE COAL FOR NEEDY OHIO CITIES

COLUMBUS, DEC. 15.—Representatives of Gov. Cox and State Fuel administrator Johnson worked side by side here today directing the movement of several hundred cars of coal to Ohio points where fuel is most needed. Special attention was given to Cleveland and to Western and Northwestern Ohio towns where domestic consumers had received no coal in many weeks.

The supreme court issued an order to the Penna. Ry. Co. to give right of way to a special train of 75 cars of coal, expected to reach Cleveland this afternoon.

Another special is being made up in the eastern Ohio field for shipment to Cleveland. Gov. Cox sent a telegraphic appeal to R. F. Lovett, chairman priority committee at Washington asking for a priority order giving right of way on coal shipments to Cleveland. The governors telegram read:

"Cleveland is probably the largest center in this country suffering for want of coal. Unless something is done public schools, hospitals and other utilities must close. The number eight vein (eastern Ohio) coal mines are not far away. If you will authorize priority for transportation of coal, we believe we can send several trains in there at once. If you could look in upon the conditions which I have tried to describe you would not hesitate. Please give us help. We believe we can induce the miners to work Sunday and are quite assured we can get the necessary cooperation between the operators and railroads. All we need is your official consent."

James B. Dugan, who is representing Gov. Cox in the coal distribution expressed the hope that next week will see renewed loading all Ohio mines for domestic consumption. He believes Ohioans will experience considerable relief from the coal famine next week. He is of the opinion that a considerable amount of cars will be placed at mines for loading within a few days.

FRENCHMAN PAYS TRIBUTE TO AMERICA

PARIS, DEC. 15.—An exceptional tribute to the U. S. was paid today by Andree Tardieu, French commissioner to America. In an article in the Petit Parisien he said:

"Mistakes may be made—indeed, already have been made by America—but her general conception of war from a military and an economic standpoint is better than ours and she should be listened to when she gives advice."
